From the President

Well, it's been a strange year. I'm sure members have had their personal challenges and so too has your club. The club was closed for over 4 months due to COVID-19, however, this time was seen as an opportunity to refurbish the bar area and paint the Gallery Room, thanks to some enthusiastic (and generous) members.

Upon re-opening in August, things picked up very pleasingly. Memberships numbers recovered, artwork adorned the walls, and regular musical events returned (albeit with social distancing). The AGM saw the stepping down of Mary Booth as President (required by constitution after 3 consecutive years). As president, Mary provided extraordinary service to the club.

With the Great Southern Nights grant funding initiative of the state government, visiting performers returned to the club, with the Michael Simic, Don Hopkins and Steve Kilby performances booked out. In addition, the use of the courtyard for early evening performances by locals, was an outstanding success. We hope to make more use of the courtyard in the future.

Thank you to members and especially volunteers for your support of the club. Here's wishing you and yours a relaxing end of year break, and looking forward to seeing you in the new year.

Ian Aldridge
